WELLBEING
apps

Apps hold amazing potential as mental health and wellbeing tools. You can carry them everywhere, engage with them in real time as you're experiencing distress, and interact with them in a completely different way to other self-help tools.

But it is important to remember that apps don't replace professional help or your doctor's advice, and there is no current accreditation system for apps that are designed. It's important to note an app will only be effective if you use it, and you are probably more likely to use something you enjoy using so if you don't like the look of the app, don't like the language it uses, or don't like the things it asks you to do, it's probably best finding another one.

Please note that most apps come free to download but then may require purchases and subscriptions to access all content or full functioning of the app. Most apps are available for Apple (iOS) or Android operated devices.

SANVELLO

Formerly PACIFICA - Apple's Best of 2017

- Stress, anxiety, and depression can get in the way of you living your life. Pacifica gives you psychologist-designed tools to address them based on cognitive behavioral therapy, mindfulness meditation, relaxation and mood/health tracking.
- Stress, anxiety, and depression are caused by an ongoing cycle of negative thoughts. Thoughts cause physical feelings and emotions which cause actions.
- Pacifica helps break this cycle using tools that target each of its components.
- Day-by-day, you'll learn to manage stress, anxiety and depression at your own pace. We're not about quick-fixes or false promises.
- We are about real progress, a day at a time.

Free

BREATHE2RELAX

- Breathe2Relax is a portable stress management tool which provides detailed information on the effects of stress on the body.
- Instructions and practice exercises to help users learn the stress management skill called diaphragmatic breathing.
- Diaphragmatic breathing, also known as "belly breathing," is a common relaxation skill utilised in a variety of treatments for anxiety and PTSD.
- Each session can be customised to change the overall length of the session, the breath rate, and other user preferences.
- Breathing exercises have been documented to decrease the body's 'fight-or-flight' (stress) response, and help with mood stabilisation, anger control, and anxiety management.
- Breathe2Relax also asks users to rate their stress before and after each practice session, graphing these responses to help users keep track of their progress.
- In addition, the app contains general information on the effects of stress on everyday living.

Free

CALMKEEPER

- Learn - The more you understand anxiety and panic, the more in control of your situation you become. CalmKeeper's interactive guide teaches you about the roots of panic.
- Distract - a simple distraction can keep your anxiety from escalating to panic.
- CalmKeeper's selection of tools distract your focus from frightening thoughts.
- Breathe - maintaining a regular breathing pattern will slow your heart rate and calm you down.
- CalmKeeper's expanding and contracting orb is a helpful breathing guide.
- Cope - coping statements help you overcome bad thoughts. You can use your own statements or the statements provided by CalmKeeper.

WHAT'S UP

- 12 common negative thinking patterns and simple methods to overcome them.
- 10 great metaphors to help you cope with negative feelings.
- A comprehensive diary to keep your thoughts and feelings together in, including the ability to rate feelings on a scale out of 10.
- A positive and negative habit tracker, set goals to practice those good habits while ending the bad ones.
- A catastrophe scale, put your problems into a better perspective when things are too much.
- A grounding game containing over 100 fun questions to help keep you grounded and in the present when stress is taking over.
- Three simple breathing techniques for keeping calm and relaxed.
- More than 70 positive quotes, with the ability to add your own and share them with the world.
- Protect your personal data with a pass-code, sync your data between your devices and back up your data so you never lose it.
- Themes, including over 20 different colors to choose from in customizing the app.

Free

ANXIETY RELEASE – BASED ON EMDR

- Anxiety Release shows you how to release anxious thoughts and feelings naturally, by harnessing the power of your brain.
- It does this by combining guided instructions and focused attention with bilateral brain stimulation.
- Bilateral stimulation is a treatment element of EMDR (eye movement desensitization & reprocessing), a revolutionary treatment which is based on the use of sensory stimulation to alter anxiety-provoking memories and responses.
- Over 30 randomized controlled studies of EMDR attest to the efficacy of this process.
- Because bilateral stimulation appeals to the unconscious, sensing part of the brain, there is no need for effortful thinking or struggling with feelings.
- All you have to do is LISTEN and your brain will do the rest!

Paid

THINKLADDER

- Thinkladder is a cognitive behavioural therapy and meditation hybrid app.
- The app allows users to evaluate and challenge unhelpful beliefs associated with stress, anxiety, relational conflict and depression, and receive empowering insights to help form healthier cognitive pathways.
- Users can incorporate these insights into their daily rituals through setting up scheduled reminders and location based reminders, so insights are received at the most opportune time.
- Gain clarity on unhelpful patterns of thoughts, feelings and behaviours.
- Discover the beliefs holding you back.
- Receive targeted insights to inspire change.
- Use our tools and techniques to create lasting change.

Paid

MINDSHIFT

- MindShift is an app designed to help teens and young adults cope with anxiety.
- Learn how to relax and develop more helpful ways of thinking.
- Identify active steps that will help you take charge of your anxiety.
- Includes strategies to deal with everyday anxiety, as well as specific tools to tackle exam anxiety, perfectionism, social anxiety, performance anxiety, worry, panic and conflict.
- It can help you change how you think about anxiety.
- Rather than trying to avoid anxiety, you can make an important shift and face it.

Free

HAPPIFY

- This app aims to give users an instant lift with activities and games to elevate your happiness level.
- Happify brings you effective tools and programs to help you take control of your feelings and thoughts.
- It also includes guided meditations and personalised programs.

- Developed by leading scientists and experts in the fields of positive psychology, mindfulness, and cognitive behavioural therapy.

Free

CHECK-IN

- The Check-in is for anyone who wants to check in with a friend but is concerned about saying the wrong thing or making the situation worse.
- The app takes you through four steps, getting you to think about where you might check in, what you might say and how might you support your friend.
- There is also a section showing you things to consider, such as what if my friend denies there is a problem or what if I say something silly.

Free

BEYONDNOW

- If you or someone close to you is experiencing suicidal thoughts or feelings, having a safety plan can help you get through the tough moments.
- Your safety plan starts with things you can do by yourself, such as thinking about your reasons to live and distracting yourself with enjoyable activities.
- It then moves on to coping strategies and people you can contact for support – your friends, family and health professionals.
- Convenient and confidential, BeyondNow puts your safety plan in your pocket so you can access and edit it at any time.
- Beyond Now is designed to be used as part of your overall mental wellbeing and safety strategy.
- You can also email a copy to trusted friends, family or your health professional to help them support you.

Free

CALM HARM

- Please note that the app is an aid in treatment but does not replace it.
- Provides tasks that help you resist or manage the urge to self harm.
- Add your own tasks too, it's completely private and password protected.
- Four categories of tasks target the main reasons for why people self harm.
- Distract helps to combat the urge by learning self control.
- Comfort helps to care rather than harm.
- Express, gets those feelings out in a different way.
- Release provides safe alternatives to self injury.
- Award-winning app developed by Dr Krause, consultant clinical psychologist using ideas from an evidence based therapy called DBT.
- Learn to identify and manage your 'emotional mind' with positive impact and track your progress.

Free

T2MOODTRACKER

- Rate and track mood daily on six pre-loaded scales - anxiety, stress, depression, brain injury, post-traumatic stress and general well-being.
- Each category has a list of feelings such as angry, numb, lonely, that users rate using a sliding scale.
- The ratings are displayed on graphs to help users track their moods over time.
- The app provides results as a graph or as reports for sharing with others.
- Notes can be recorded to document daily events, medication changes and treatments that may be associated with mood changes, providing accurate information to help health care providers make treatment decisions.

Free

MOOD MISSION

- Tell MoodMission how you're feeling and it will give you a tailored list of five Missions that can help you feel better and improve your wellbeing.
- Missions are mental health strategies that are quick, easily achievable, and backed up by scientific evidence.
- Mindfulness meditations, relaxation, exercise and fitness activities.
- Affirmations and coping statements, behavioural activation.
- Yoga and gratitude and heaps of other proven mood boosting activities.
- A randomised controlled trial has shown that MoodMission can improve mental health and wellbeing (Bakker et al., 2019).
- Completing missions earns you rewards in the app, motivating you to take steps towards becoming healthier, happier, and more confident.
- A mission log helps you track your progress over time.
- MoodMission learns which types of missions work best for you, so the more you use MoodMission the better it gets at tailoring your mission suggestions.
